

Central Bank Participation in Dublin Pride Parade 2026

Ciarán

So here we are again. Dublin Pride 2026. We are here with our PWIN colleagues and our Central Bank colleagues in the centre of Dublin, in the centre of Ireland. It's just wonderful to see so many people out here supporting us.

Pride is a celebration. A celebration of diversity, a celebration of inclusion. A celebration of the joy of everyone being themselves.

Brilliant atmosphere. People are in such good form. It doesn't matter what the weather is, whether it's sunny or whether it's rainy. It's always a super, super day.

It's just lovely to connect with colleagues and support our colleagues.

Another fantastic Pride. It's important that we're here and we're visible, and that we're a leader. Pride is love. It's acceptance. It's protest. It's a load of different things.

The public sector needs to lead by example to represent the people that we serve. So, it's great to be part of this.

It's really important to reinforce a positive and inclusive atmosphere both inside the bank and to then show the public that those are the values that we stand for in terms of diversity, and inclusion as well.
