Subject: New Levy Methodology for Retail Intermediaries'

Hi, With regard to the levy and how it is calculated, its seems very unfair to a small sole operator to have to pay a massive increase in the levy since last year, and why can a person earn up to €685000 in fees pay the same levy as a person who have earned €60000 in fees. Seems a bit strange. This should really addressed so as the bigger fee income earners pay the bigger levies rather than a person earning 1 tenth gets charges with the same amount. In my opinion a person earning €60000 of commission being charged €685 for a levy is just way too much.

Regards
